Only two plate number positions were printed -- this and one at one side. The largest recorded multiple is a block of four (which does not have the other plate number position), so this plate number single should be considered highly desirable and may be unique. Usage.

With the stamp issue of January 1, 1880, the practice of bisecting a stamp to use it for postage at half its value began to appear. These early bisects were not authorized. An official authorization to use bisects would first occur in 1888.

At the back of this section are several issues of "REVISTA DE LA Sociedad Filatélica Cubana" published between October 1902 and June 15, 1903 with translation into English by my father Colonel Lyman D. Bothwell Doctor of Economics, and Renound Puerto Rican stamp collector. Because of the additional value a bisected stamp has there are many forgeries. The articles at the back are one of the first and most complete descriptions of the different hand stamps used in the cancellation of Cuban mail. One of the easy ways to prove a bisect is faked is if the cancellation is with a hand stamp that was not used in Cuba at that time.

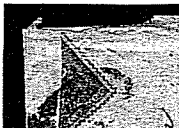

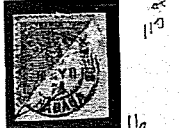

All references to the cancellations will use the figure numbers of these articles.

With the introduction of stamps in Cuba hand stamps to cancel them were introduced. These were called Canos Matasellor and were used almost exclusively up till 1870. In early usage they were used with black ink, towards the end of there usage colored inks were used primarily violet and red.

VERY FINE. A RARE AND DESIRABLE IMPRINT PAIR OF THE CUBA 10-CENT TYPE II ISSUE, WHICH ONLY EXISTS AS A SPECIAL PRINTING.

In March 1900 one pane of each denomination was prepared for the Paris and Pan-American Expositions. For the 10c the Type II design was used and it is only known as a Special Printing. Only two plate number and imprint positions were printed. The plate number position from the right side was recently sold in the Whitpain sale. The largest recorded multiple is a block of four (which does not have the other plate number position), so this pair with the imprint is likely unique.

Each stamp with Scott Stamp & Coin Co. backstamp. Weill backstamps in selvage. Scott Retail as singles (Image Magnifier)
