Madrid, Spain: Academia Hispánica de Filatelia (Hispanic Philatelic Academy), Discursos Académicos IX

(Academic Discourse IX), 1998, Cuba on pp.8-72, profusely illustrated, in Spanish.

This book presents a reconstruction of the single plate of Cuba's 1878 postal card and of a plate of the 1879 card, and identifies the distinguishing characteristics of 12 cards belonging to a second plate of the 1879 card. All plate positions are illustrated one to a page and their identifying characteristics are described and highlighted using detailed images of the identifying characteristics. This is an excellent reference for the student of these cards.

This is a study of the identifying characteristics of different plate positions of the 1898 Alfonso XII single and double (reply cards) issued for Cuba, but without identifying their exact position on the printing plates because no full sheets have survived to be able to exactly plate each card. The identifying characteristics of the various distinct plate positions are described and illustrated in great detail. This is an excellent reference for the student of these cards.

"World's earliest overprints include successful Cuban postal forgery"

LINN, 7 Feb 1983, p.?, ill.

Article debating which is the world's second earliest overprint on a stamp, claiming the first overprint was created in 1846 on a local carrier stamp from New York City. After considering a couple of candidates, one from Haiti and another from Mauritius, the article gives the honor of being "philately's second earliest overprint" to Cuba's "Y 1/4" overprint on the 2 reales stamp of the first issue of Cuba that were overprinted for use in the local delivery service within the city of Havana inaugurated on 19 November 1855. The article fails to mention that the Cuban overprint is really the world's first overprint officially issued by a country's postal administration. The article also incorrectly states that these overprints were applied to the 2 reales stamps of the second and fourth issues of Cuba without identifying what is meant by "second and fourth issues". Presumably, the reference to the overprint of the fourth issue is to Scott No.15 which bears an overprint that is different from the first, was applied at a later date, and should not be lumped together with the first overprint. Then the article goes on to the subject of its title, giving a report of the Matanzas “postmaster’s forgery” which the postmaster at Matanzas created by buying 2 reales stamps overprinted “Y 1/4” in Havana, paying 1/4 of a real for each, erasing the overprints as best possible, and then disguising the forgeries by applying a heavy oval grid cancellation on top of the erasures at the time of sale of the stamps to the public. The article does not indicate that these Matanzas “postmaster’s forgeries” are only known to exist using “Y 1/4” overprints (Scott No.15) on the 2 reales stamps of the third issue (Scott No.14). Finally, note that the Y 1/4 “overprints” discussed in this article are technically consired to be “surcharges” because they changed the face value of the stamp.

"Review of Scott Vol.2: pricing and Cuba"

LINN, 29 Aug 1988, p.8, ill.

This article talks in general about pricing in the 1989 issue of Vol.2 of Scott’s Catalog and then focuses on the new listings for Cuban stamps for the period from mid-1961 to mid-1974 after not having listed any Cuban stamps after the Feb 1962 embargo of trade with Cuba by the U.S. The author points out that the new listings for Cuba do not include pricing because of the embargo and goes on to point several errors in the catalog listing.

“Holiday inspires Christmas stamp topic”

LINN, 24 Dec 1990, p.18.

Small reference to Cuban stamps which we quote in its entirety: “Even countries where Christians are a minority have issued stamps to commemorate Christmas. From 1960 until 1970, Cuba issued Christmas stamps, usually in 15-stamp se-tenant sets, that featured colorful flora and fauna. Since 1970, Cuba has not celebrated Christmas, so there have been no recent Christmas commemoratives from there.” The misstatement in the first sentence led to a response in the January 21, 1991, “Readers’ Opinion” section of Linn’s (see <MISK9101>).

“Theft at Cuban postal museum; thief offering material in the U.S.”

LINN, 31 May 1993, p.2, ill. The article cites a report of the theft in the Spanish language magazine Crónica Filatélica of May 1993.

Report of the theft on Dec 11-12, 1992, of a considerable holding of Cuban classical material from the Cuban National Postal Museum in Havana by a museum employee, Alejandro Ruiz Piedra, who took the material to Mexico and subsequently travelled to the U.S. where he attempted to sell some of the material. The article gives a summary of the Cuban material stolen and illustrates a combination cover sent to Barcelona, Spain, via the U.S. bearing a 50 c. 1875 Cuban stamp and four U.S. stamps. Attached to this article are photocopies of photocopies of some of the stolen materials that were provided to me by Dr. Roberto M. Rosende in an attempt to publicize the stolen materials among Cuban philatelists in case any of it is eventually offered for sale. To date none of the material has been recovered to my knowledge.

Excerpts from the author's "in preparation" Catalog of Cuba that mostly consists of reprints of Spanish Royal Decrees pertaining to the Cuban Postal Service at the onset of the use of stamps for the prepayment of correspondence. The decrees cited deal with the initial establishment of the use of stamps for the prepayment of correspondence in the overseas provinces of Cuba and Puerto Rico and between them and the Spanish main and Canary Islands, the specification of postal rates for single and heavier letters, the provisions for registered mail and for official mail, and the establishment of the interior mail for the city of Habana and its immediate vicinity outside the city's protective walls. We have no knowledge of whether the cited "in preparation" Catalog of Cuba was ever published.

Letter complaining about the lack of recognition of rarity and value given to Cuban stamps by European dealers in their catalogs. The authors, tired of placing orders for advertised stamps and getting back replies that they are not in stock, place an "open letter" order in this article in RSFC for various rare Cuban stamps advertised in a recently received catalog from the French firm Yvert et Tellier requesting ten copies of each stamp in the list. This article identifies the few forwarding agents operating in the Canary Islands known to the author, some of them unlisted in <ROWEK6600>. However, besides the possible use in identifying markings of these forwarding agents in correspondence from and to Cuba, the real interest to Cuban philately of this article lies in Figure 3 therein, which illustrates an 18 March 1851 folded letter written on stationery from the "Fragata 'Hispano-Cubana', Correo No.2" (Frigate "Hispano-Cubana"), where the "Correo No.2" seems to indicate that it is the "Correo Marítimo No.2" mail ship that at that time travelled the route Cádiz-Canarias-Puerto Rico-Cuba. It would be interesting to verify this fact.

The featured cover is a cover mailed from Cuba to New York franked with a 5c. 1896 Cuban insurrection stamp that was not recognized by the U.S. post office and was charged 10c. postage due. The cover is addressed to Tomás Estrada Palma representative of the Cuban insurrection against Spain in New York and later first president of the Cuban Republic. The cover was from the Peter A. Robertson Collection sold by Christie's on March 15, 1988 (see <ROBEP8803>).

Letter to the editor asking whether a cover with a 1930 3c José de la Luz stamp (Scott 310) together with a U.S. 1929 2c Washington coil stamp (Scott 599A) should be considered to be a case of mixed franking. The response to the question was that the franking on this cover is not a true mixed franking since the U.S. stamp served no genuine postal purpose and that the cover should be considered to be a nice souvenir prepared by a philatelist.

The article is illustrated with an 1858 folded letter from Virginia to Cuba bearing a pair of U.S. 1857 5c red brown stamps. The interesting fact about this cover for the Cuban philatelist is that it also bears separate "NA" and "1" black handstamps on the front, both applied in Cuba to denote mail coming from "Norte América" (North America). The "1" handstamp was a rate marking.

Item in "Collectors' Forum" inquiring about the existence of airmail service from Guantánamo Bay to the U.S. and Possessions in the 1930s and the rates that applied. The editor responds quoting from BEEC9600 that a 10c. rate per ½ ounce to and from Guantánamo Bay went into effect on 1 Dec 1932 and remained so until 29 Jun 1945 when it was lowered to 8c. A cover bearing a 10c. U.S. stamp cancelled in Guantánamo Bay on 25 Oct 1942 and addressed to Illinois is shown as evidence of the application of the 10c. rate. The editor does not know whether any commercial airline provided the airmail service between Guantánamo Bay and the U.S. or whether the service was provided by the U.S. military (most probably).

This is an exhibit of the Robert Littrell collection of gutter blocks of four stamps from the center of sheets of Cuban stamps that were printed in sheets of four panes of stamps divided by blank gutters. These occurred on stamps printed between 1926 and 1952, but not in all issues and not even in all values of certain issues as explained in the exhibit. This work was prepared for posting in the “Pages from Cuban Collections” of the FILACUBA Website. The collection posted in the Website was first exhibited at the ROMPEX 2009 Philatelic Exhibition held 15-17 May 2009.

The catalog is accessible from either the Spanish Administration pages, the U.S. Administration pages, or the Republic pages within the “Pages from Cuban Collections” of the FILACUBA Website. The catalog itself is divided in two sections: one for postal cards and another one for envelopes and wrappers. Each of these is in turn subdivided by historical period into Spanish Administration items, U.S. Administration items, and Republic items. The catalog does not cover the Castro era. The catalog lists each item by Edifil and Higgins & Gage catalog numbers and provides a detailed description of each item, including color and type of paper stock, color of indicia, size, etc. and also includes listings for significant varieties and constant printing flaws. All items are illustrated with full size color images and closeup images of the printing varieties and flaws. Descriptions are provided in both English and Spanish.

Account of some of the contents of the “Archivo General de la Marina de Guerra” (General Archives of the Navy) located in El Viso del Marqués in the region of La Mancha, Spain, pertaining to the maritime mails with America or “Correos de Yndias” (Indies Posts). The article mentions that in this archive there are 63 bundles of documents pertaining to the transport of correspondence to and from America by the ships of the Royal Navy from 1764 to 1900. Of special interest is a document dated 10 April 1803 specifying the routes that mail carrying ships departing from the port of La Coruña in Galicia, Spain, should follow to South America and the Caribbean to ensure that no place of importance to the flow of mail to and from America is missed. This document is transcribed in the article in its entirety and a diagram illustrating the various routes that the mail ships must follow is included.

The title of this article is incorrect--the overprinted stamps were not really Cuban, they were the Antilles stamps (labelled "Ultramar") issued by Spain for common use in Cuba and Puerto Rico. The article is not relevant to Cuba philately other than for the fact that it states that these Antilles stamps were being bought in Cuba for paper currency for resale at a profit in Puerto Rico where they could only be bought with gold.
