Note of the formation of a committee of U.S. Possessions Philatelic Society members to gather reports of all of the existing plate numbers of U.S. Possessions stamps. This particular issue of Possessions starts with a listing of known plate numbers for Cuban stamps of the U.S. Administration period and calls for additional known plate numbers from Society members.

Unpublished 1 page list of the plate numbers found on the 1899 U.S. stamps overprinted for use in Cuba. A note at the bottom right corner of the page indicates this was Revision #4 of 4-20-81 of the list. This list is a precursor of <NAPP8110>. The list is preceded by a letter Mr. Napp sent to Mark R. Tyx, a fellow member of the United States Possessions Philatelic Society who came to Mr. Napp's attention from a membership list distributed by the Society as a Supplement to Possessions, Fourth Quarter, 1981, indicating Mr. Tyx's collecting interest to be Cuba. The intent of the letter was to exchange information with Mr. Tyx on the subject.

West Orange, N.J.: Grounds for Divorce Publications, late 1988, Cuba section 33 pp. plus 3 pp. of Appendix 2, ill.
This edition is considered the first edition and was updated with errata pages issued in May 1989 that are considered to be a second edition by the author per his comments on p.11 of the third edition published in 2000 (see <NAPP0000>).

Title is self-descriptive. Covers overprints of U.S. stamps for use in Cuba (Scott 221-226, E1, and J1-J4) and U.S. Administration issues printed specifically for Cuba (Scott 227-231, and E2), including regular issues, special delivery, postage due, booklets, and specimens. Provides dates shipped to and received in Cuba and quantities. Includes information on plate numbers, plate block positions, and valuations for plate blocks of 6. "Falsos Postales de Antillas. Emisión de 1857."
Part pertaining to Antilles postal forgeries of a conference on postal forgeries given by Alfredo Navarro Payá during the international exhibition GRANADA 92 in April 1992. Copy provided by the author, 2 pages. The conference notes cites the illustration of some of the postal forgery types discussed, but unfortunately the notes provided by the author did not include them. However, the article mentions that the Guerra Aguiar postal forgery... type 16, which the author labels as type T-XIII following Pedro Monge's 12 postal forgery types, is illustrated on page 41 of his previous publication <NAVAP8710>.

The piece focuses on the Antilles postal forgeries of 1857 discussing some of the 16 types cited by Guerra Aguiar in <GUER7600> versus the 9 types identified by Graus in <GRAU8312> and the 12 identified by Monge in <MONGP5700>. The author notes that Graus recently identified a new postal forgery he found as type X which the author had viewed as a variant of <GUER7600> type III or MPC IIa (in the piece, references to MPC types are the same as references to <GUER7600> which was published by Guerra Aguiar under the auspices of the Museo Postal Cubano). The author suggests this new variety should be given the number 17 following the 16 types of Guerra Aguiar. However the highlight of the piece is that the Guerra Aguiar type 16 stamp which the author had labeled type 13 in his own collection following the 12 types identified by Pedro Monge, corresponds to the postal forgery noted in a circular from the Spanish postal authorities in Cuba dated 9 February 1858, and notes that this places this postal forgery as the earliest reported one of the Spanish Antilles.

"El papel con las filigranas, lazos y líneas cruzadas en las emisiones de 1855 y 1856 de España y Antillas Españolas y El primer sello falso postal empleado en Puerto Rico"
("The watermarked loops and crossed lines paper used in the 1855 and 1856 stamp issues of of Spain and Spanish Antilles and The first postally forged stamp used in Puerto Rico")
Discussion of the watermarked paper used in these issues of Spain and the Spanish Antilles to make them harder to forge. The article provides historical information of the placement in circulation of these stamps in Cuba and Puerto Rico based on Guerra Aguiar's Estudio Sobre la Primera Emisión Postal de Antillas Españolas (<GUER7600>), but indicates that afterwards and until his death Guerra Aguiar affirmed that the 1856 watermarked paper stamps were never used in Cuba, but were only used in Puerto Rico, and then goes on to report the finding of a 1 rpf 1856 postal forgery that the author claims is the first postal forgery used in Puerto Rico. The article illustrates both the front and back of the stamp and indicates that the crossed lines of the real watermarked paper have been crudely imitated by drawing lines in ink on the back of the stamp. The stamp is cancelled by the normal "parrilla" cancel of the time. However, I have in my collection several Cuban covers with ½ rpf stamps of the watermarked crossed line issue, so that Guerra Aguiar's assertion that these stamps were not used in Cuba is erroneous, and so is the conclusion of this article, based on the Guerra Aguiar assertion, that the stamp discussed in this article is unquestionably from Puerto Rico.

<NAVAP9804> Navarro Payá, Alfredo
"El primer sello falso postal circulado en Cuba" ("The First Postal Forgery Circulated in Cuba")
This article consists of three sections: the first one provides a historical overview of the first issues of Queen Isabella II stamps used in Cuba and their watermarked and unwatermarked papers, based on Guerra Aguiar's Estudio Sobre la Primera Emisión Postal de Antillas Españolas (<GUER7600>). The second section is an overview of Cuban history of the 19th Century that has nothing to do with the subject of the article and whose only philatelic interest is the illustration of a cover from Camp Cuba Libre in Jacksonville, Florida, with an interesting cachet showing Uncle Sam persecuting a Spaniard. The third is the main subject of the article in which the author quotes p.103 of <GUER7600> referring to an official notification dated 9 February 1858 from the Government alerting the public of a postal forgery of the ½ rpf stamp currently in circulation (Scott 12). The author goes on to indicate that this announcement piqued his curiosity and that through his research he has come to the conclusion that the stamp in question is none other than the Type 16 forgery described on p.115 of Guerra Aguiar's book. The author goes on to explain how he came to this conclusion. In the first part of the article, the author repeats the erroneous fact first mentioned in <NAVA9707> that Guerra Aguiar has stated that the 1856 watermarked paper stamps were never used in Cuba, and that they were only used in Puerto Rico.

"Un posible sello falso de Las Antillas de 1856" "A Possible 1856 Forgery from the Antilles"

This article is a follow-up on <NAVP97mm>. The first part of the article provides an overview of the first issues of the Antilles with the effigy of Queen Isabella II, discusses its background, lists the postal rates in effect, and illustrates one of the five covers known with a date of 25 April 1855, the second day of use of these stamps (none are known from the first day of circulation of these stamps). The second part of the article discusses the forgery of the crossed lines watermark stamp that he had assumed was the first postal forgery of Puerto Rico, but now indicates that after further consultations he has been apprised of the fact that the parrilla cancel on it was used only in Cuba, and that the stamps with crossed lines watermark did in fact circulate in Cuba towards the latter part of 1856, thus making it entirely possible that the stamp in question may have been postally used in Cuba. The last part of the article discusses the type II postal forgery of the 1 rpf 1857 issue pointing out the differences with the genuine stamp and illustrating an example on a cover from Matanzas to Rivadeo, Spain. The article ends with a summary of the numerous postal forgeries known of the ½ and 1 rpf values of the 1857 issue and the continuing forging of Cuban issues up to 1898, ascribing a U.S. origin to most of them—a fact that is not supported and has no foundation in the existing philatelic literature.

Note however that the alternative candidate proposed by Mr. Norona, the Kingston, Jamaica, "A-01" cancellation doesn’t seem to have been in use longer than the Cuban "parrilla" cancellation.

“Flags and Coats-of-Arms of the American Republics”
NPM, Vol.1, No.5, issued in connection with the Pan-American Stamp Exhibition held in Philadelphia from April 9 to May 13, 1949. The Cuban flag and coat-of-arms are shown and described on p.39.

The article gives a brief history of the origins of the Cuban flag and illustrates and describes both the Cuban flag and coat-of-arms. Although not philatelic, this item is cited for the benefit of topical collectors because both the Cuban flag and coat-of-arms appear on several Cuban stamps. In particular: 1) the set Scott 458-461, C41-C43, and E13, commemorates the centenary of the adoption of the flag; 2) the set <EDIFILd> 1242-1247 shows the Cuban coat-of-arms as part of Cuban coins; and 3) <EDIFILd> 1382 shows the coat-of-arms itself.

"President's Message…"
DISC, Vol.31, No.2, WNo.122, 12 Apr 2013, p.2138, ill.
Mention and illustration of the Ottmar Zeiher's Cuba souvenir postcard commemorating the newly-formed Republic of Cuba showing various Cuban philatelic items: Scott Nos.227-231, E2, and three postal stationery cut squares from Scott Nos.U9 -18 and W1-2 (showing the bust of Columbus). It is ironic that this postcard which is commemorating the newly-formed Republic of Cuba is illustrated with stamps and postal stationery items from the U.S. Administration, a fact that is not mentioned in the article.

NYT, 15 Jan 1897.
Article on the "Mambi" Correo Insurrecto stamp issue of 1896 in values of 2, 5, 10, and 25 cents. The article states that as far as the U.S. Post Office Department is concerned, these stamps are good for the payment of postage provided that the stamps are properly canceled at a regular Post Office in spite of the fact that the United States Government has not recognized Cuba as a free and independent country. However, the article does not define what it means by a "regular" Post Office.

“Ships First Cuban stamps. Post Office Department Sends $152,000 Worth to Havana.”
NYT, 23 Aug 1898, p.4.
The article states that the $152,000 worth of stamps sent to Cuba comprised the following quantities of stamps: 1,500,000 one cent, 2 million two cents, 400,000 three cents, 800,000 five cents, 400,000 ten cents, 50,000 ten cents special delivery, and postage due stamps of four denominations up to ten cents (1, 2, 5, and 10 cents). The article goes on to describe the designs on the stamps.
Report that the Cuban South Coast Steamship Company has resumed operations and listing of ports serviced between Santiago and Batabanó, but that the Cuban North Coast Steamship Company has yet to resume service. The report recommends that all mail for Cuba be sent via Tampa and Havana as there is twice weekly service between the two ports, but that military mail for troops in Santiago and its vicinity should be sent to Washington, D.C., for weekly dispatch to Cuba.

Announcement by the U.S. Postmaster General of the establishment of seven new military postal stations in Cuba: Pinar del Rio, Guanajay, Mariel, Trinidad, Las Tunas, Sancti Spiritus, and Cárdenas.
Notice of an executive order by the U.S. President stipulating that as of 1 January 1899 all postal dues among other fees payable in Cuba shall be paid in U.S. money or in foreign gold coin such as Spanish alphonsonsinos (20 peseta piece) at the rate of exchange of USD $4.82 per alphonsonino.

Report that the U.S. Post Office Department has decided to issue a new set of five stamps for Cuba (Scott 227-231) to be produced by the U.S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Report that U.S. Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith has paid a visit to Cuba to see first-hand the progress made by Director General of Posts for Cuba, Col. Rathbone, in reorganizing the postal service inherited from the Spanish in Cuba following the model of the U.S. postal service. In an interview before departing back to the U.S., the U.S. Postmaster General expressed his confidence in the abilities of Col. Rathbone in accomplishing the monumental job of reconstructing the Cuban postal service as it exists in the U.S. and mentions that special delivery service is being inaugurated in Havana that week and that the Post Office will be moved to a fully equipped new building with modern equipment as it exists in New York or Philadelphia. The reference to Brooke in the title is to General Brooke, Military Governor of Cuba, who the Postmaster General also lauds for his work in Cuba.

Report that the first set of five stamps prepared expressly for use in Cuba (Scott 227-231) is almost ready for issue. The report describes the stamp designs for each denomination and indicates that they were produced by the U.S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Report by Andrew J. Welch, special agent for the Director General of Posts in Cuba, of improvements in the Cuban postal service brought about by the implantation of the U.S. Postal System in Cuba.

Report that the U.S. Post Office Department has just shipped to Havana, for distribution to the Post Offices in the island, the first lot of stamps prepared expressly for use in Cuba (Scott 227-231, J1-J4, and E3). The article specifies the designs, denominations, numbers, total face value, and types of stamps that were sent, but mislabels Scott E3 as a “free delivery” stamp instead of “special delivery”.

“Postal Prosperity”

Report predicting greatly expanded postal business in the U.S. and wondering the impact that the extension of the U.S. postal service to Cuba, Puerto Rico, and the Philippines will have on the usual deficit incurred by the U.S. postal service. The article also indicates that the Cuban Director of Posts, Col. Rathbone, who has just returned from Cuba, is reporting that the people of Cuba greatly appreciate and are taking advantage of the improvements brought about by the U.S. postal service in Cuba since Spain ceased to direct the mail service in the island.
