PW, Vol.66, No.2, 30 Jun 1915, pp.29-30.

Report that the "old Cuban republic stamps remaining in the Treasury vaults will not be surcharged and placed on sale on the next public holiday" as had been speculated and report that the Postmaster General's order to destroy all of the stamps on hand except for the map issue has been abandoned (see <PW1506>). In the first segment it is not clear which are the "stamps remaining in the Treasury vaults" or what was the intended surcharge that is mentioned. We speculate that the reference may have been to the Scott 232 surcharges.

The spud papers: an illustrated descriptive catalog of early philatelic forgeries

Co-authors: W. Dudley Atlee, Robert Brisco Earée and Edward Loines Pemberton

Lucerne: Emile Bertrand, 1952

Introductory essay and comprehensive index by Lowell Ragatz.

A series of articles published in various publications between 1871 and 1881 and published as a book in 1952.

The articles describe the forgeries made by the Spiro brothers in Hamburg, Germany, Since the Spud Papers were published in the late 19th century, collectors have found many more Spiro forgeries. Today, more than 400 different forgeries have been recorded.

The Fournier Album of Philatelic Forgeries. A Photographic Composite for Reference Purposes.

Worthington, OH: Janet van den Berg, Aug 1970, Cuba on p.36. NPML Call No. HE6184.F6F68.

This is basically a reprint of the Album de Fac-Similés Edited by L'Union Philatélique de Genève in.1928 (see <FOUR2800>) with introductory material providing background information about the albums and the work of Fournier. L'Union Philatélique de Geneve prepared 480 of these albums containing real facsimiles from the surviving stock of the deceased François Fournier as a means of alerting the philatelic trade and collectors to the facsimiles produced by Fournier.

You can view a copy of the original album, with the original facsimiles attached, at the following location:

<https://web.archive.org/web/20091028150827/http://geocities.com/claghorn1p/FournierAlbum/index000.htm>

Unfortunately, very few of the 480 albums that were produced survive to this date and the detail of the illustrations in the reprinted albums is poor and of no use in identifying the actual Fournier facsimiles. Their only use is in making the philatelic community of the existence of the facsimiles. With regards to the Cuban material in the albums, page 9 shows examples of the Y 1/4 surcharge and the "Habilitado por la Nación" overprint plus an oval cancellation containing horizontal parallel bars inside. Page 36 shows 7 stamps of the 1898 issue of Alfonso XIII, four imperforate and three with perforations. It also shows the five surcharges on Alfonso XII stamps of 1882 after the robbery of stamps of that issue from the postal warehouse. The page ends with an entry labeled "Surcharges sur timbres 1896-1898" showing bold numerals 1, 2, 3 and three versions of number 5. We do not know what was their use. No information is provided beyond the illustrations. Page 157

Quoting from the introduction: "In January, 1931, there was a bold attempt to open direct airmail service between Mexico City and Havana, Cuba. This was to be accomplished by flying from Mexico City to Progreso, on the Gulf of Mexico coast, and then over water to Havana. Previously, airmail from Mexico City was flown to the Port of Entry at Brownsville, Texas, and then to Miami, where it was flown to Havana by Pan Am. This new service was given the RAC 10 route number. The contractor was Cia. de Transportes Aereos Mexico-Cuba."

News of the forthcoming publication of the Edifil Specialized Catalog of Cuban Stamps, 2012 Edition, Volume I: 1855-1958 (see <EDIFIL1200>). The last paragraph of this news item summarizes the improvements in this edition of the catalog. Unfortunately, this edition of the catalog is not much more than a reprint of <EDIFIL0200> with minor modifications and the unfortunate deletion of the section of Republic telegraph stamps. Overall, a considerable disappointment after a wait of ten years for an updated edition. Among the cited improvements are additional plating information of the ½ and 1 rpf values of the first issue of Antilles and of the 1883 surcharged stamps, an improved section on the "Habilitados de Puerto Príncipe, an expansion of the telegraph stamps section that was countered with the deletion of the Republic telegraph section, significant modifications to the postal stationery section derived from research by the International Cuban Philatelic Society, the addition of information, illustrations, and FDC handstamps and commemorative cancellations, and addition of previously unlisted first flights.

cover and the latter showing a picture of the Capitol Building in La Habana in brown tones on a white background. The format then changes again in the 1930 issues, all of which have a plain gray cover, but of different design than the April 1929 cover. In addition, all 1930 issues indicate that the journal is the official publication of the "Sociedad Filatélica de las Antillas y Sociedad Aerofilatélica Americana" W.C. Krass is listed as Director and Rafael Oriol as Manager up to Vol.I, No.V, May 1929, when E. Pulpeiro takes over as Manager. All three 1930 issues list A.P. Aznar as Director and M. Abril as Manager. All issues consist of 20 unnumbered pages plus covers, except the August 1930 issue which has 24 pages. More than half of the content is advertisements and the sparse philatelic articles contained are unsubstantial.

Following are the five known issues of this journal:

Yr.V, No.6, 15 Jun 1935, pp.1-16. The lapse in publication of the journal from issue No.5 to No.6 is explained by its editor on page one of this last issue as resulting from the concurrent existence of three philatelic societies in the Republic each with its own journal that resulted in a delution of the support required to sustain their publication and finally resulted in the cessation of publication of all three journals. The editor surmises that if all Cuban philatelists had been united and working together in a single philatelic society they could have sustained the production of a great journal.

CPa, Vol.18, No.52, Last Third 2007, pp.11-12, ill., Eng. & Span.

Article on the findings of the cited plate defects that the author mentions do not concur with the previous publications on the subject by Guerra Aguiar in Estudio Sobre la Primera Emisión Postal de Antillas Españolas (<GUER7600>), or Echenagusía in "Tablas Simplificadas para la Localización y Plancheo de la Primera Emisión de Antillas Españolas" (<ECHE9912b>). The author requests help from the readers in solving these inconsistencies. The Editor of The Cuban Philatelist appends a note to this article stating that the differences may be accounted by the different printings and settings of this issue over its long period of use from 1857 until 1864.

The Peter A. Robertson Collection of Cuba--Insurrection and Puerto Príncipe Issues

New York: Christie's-Robson Lowe, Auction Sale, Tuesday, March 15, 1988, 58 pp., profusely illustrated.

Catalog of the auction sale of one of the greatest collections of insurrection and Puerto Príncipe issues ever assembled. The collection is remarkable for its completeness and for the incomparable number of covers of these issues that Mr. Robertson was able to acquire. The catalog contains an extremely detailed description of the material and is beautifully illustrated, and thus constitutes an excellent handbook for the collector/student of these issues. Note, however, that the Puerto Príncipe issues are organized according to Scott's U.S. Specialized catalog listings of the five printings of these issues which do not correspond to those listed by Guerra Aguiar in <GUER7100>. Also note that the cancellations on some of the Puerto Príncipe stamps in the collection may not be genuine--for example, lots 2143, 2188, and 2199 were stamps of the 5th printing of January 11, 1899, but have December cancellations. The biggest buyer at the auction was Dr. Yamil Kouri (the father). Mr. Ignacio Prats was the second biggest buyer of lots at the auction.

Lot 1981 was basically the collection presented here minus those items that are marked with individual lot numbers that were extracted from the main body of the collection and offered as separate lots in the sale. Mr. Ignacio Prats purchased lot 1981, extracted some items of interest for his own collection, and then resold the bulk of the lot to me. I was also a heavy buyer of the lots sold separately at the auction. See <S&LL9003> for a listing and prices realized of the Cuban lots in the auction.

Report of the only known cover from U.S. Military Station No.24, Palma Soriano, Cuba, dated March 1900, that sold as lot 2744 for $2300 at a William A. Fox auction held 29 March 1990. The article points out the fact that the postal marking being discussed does not date from the period of operation of Military Station No.24 which only operated from January 1 to February 23, 1899, but none are known from that period, so that this late use of the postal station marking is so far the only surviving example of this military station cancellation.

Sistema de Contabilidad-Ingresos. Manual de Instrucciones y Formularios
(Accounting System for Receipts. Handbook of Instructions and Forms)

Habana: Ministerio de Comunicaciones (Communications Ministry), 1960, 103 pp. (sized 5.5 x 8.5 inches) plus 45 pp. of forms, many of them oversized foldouts. When Mr. Rodríguez passed away, his wife gave me his copy of the handbook which he had previously lent to me for photocopying (it still bears my note on a Post-it note thanking him for letting me borrow the book when I returned it to him). The original will be donated to the Cuban Collection of the University of Miami's Richter Library.

This handbook provides detailed instructions and supporting forms for implementation of an accounting system for receipts at the Ministry of Communications of Cuba. The Ministry of Communications of Cuba was in charge of the nation's postal, telegraphy, and radiotelegraphy services. The accounting system was devised and implemented in 1960 under the direction of Pedro M. Rodríguez, Director of the Accounting and Budgets Branch of the Ministry. The system was fully functioning when the Bay of Pigs invasion took place in April 1961 and Mr. Rodríguez was thrown into prison at La Cabaña Fortress in Havana for several weeks due to his lack of support for the Castro regime. Upon his release from prison Mr. Rodríguez shortly thereafter left the country and assumes that the system continued in operation.

These codes are the equivalent of the U.S. ZIP codes. This ZIP code scheme was devised by Pedro M. Rodríguez in consultation with the U.S. Postmaster General at the time, while serving as Director of the Accounting and Budgets Branch of the Cuban Ministry of Communications. The system was never implemented because the purchase from the U.S. of the equipment required to implement it was never completed by the Castro Cuban Government. The item is preceded by a letter from Mr. Rodríguez to Roberto M. Rosende conveying the listing of codes for publication in BNJ (see <RODR8506>). The letter is undated but it must have been sent in late 1984 or early 1985.

Comprehensive listing of all known Cuban post offices in operation from 1764 to 1960 (No attempt is made to cover the period after 1960 due to the lack of reliable information available outside of Cuba). Provides the following information for each post office listed: current and previous (if any) names; earliest known date of operation; whether it was in operation in 1898, 1940, and 1960; post office classification (1st to 5th class; urban or rural) and unique identifying code number; the means of communication available to the post office at the time of its last known date of operation (access by road, railroad, air, and sea with types of roads and railroads differentiated); and the services available at the post office. Post offices are listed alphabetically by province and a combined alphabetical cross index of all post offices is also provided. Essential reference for the researcher.

Letter from Pedro Rodríguez to Dr. Miguel Angel Chiong of 10 Oct 1987

Copy in my personal library, 2 pp. plus 10 pp. of related attachments, in Spanish.

The letter contains some information of interest about the lack of procedural manuals to bring uniformity to the conduct of business in the Cuban postal service that resulted in local postmasters creating most of their own procedures and cancelling devices. The letter also provides information about the Palm City post office, defines the acronyms S.E.E and S.G.P., and explains the use of the rare postal marking "Suplente". Finally, the letter provides information about some of the philatelic projects and activities that Mr. Rodríguez was undertaking at the time. Attached to the letter is a one page list of answers to questions previously posed by Dr. Chiong and a listing of Cuban town postal marks provided by Dr. Chiong to Pedro Rodríguez in support of his work on the catalog of Cuban post offices with pencilled corrections by Mr. Rodríguez. Neither of these attachments came with the original letter.

This is the first comprehensive catalog of Cuban revenue stamps since the Forbin catalog of 1915 and is a monumental accomplishment on the part of Messrs. Jones and Rodríguez on behalf of the philately of Cuban revenue stamps. I mention Messrs. Jones and Rodríguez jointly because I am a witness to the tremendous contribution that Mr. Rodríguez made to the catalog with a superb job of editing and publishing on top of the usual magnificent research work done by Mr. Jones. This work is an essential reference for the student and collector of Cuban revenues. Notwithstanding the outstanding quality of this work, I have three minor critical observations to make that should not detract from the importance of the work. First, I wish that the author would have devised a numbering system that would match the Forbin numbering system and work as an extension of it for items that are missing in Forbin (omissions, unlisted varieties, new issues)--this would have done away with the need for a catalog number concordance table. Second, I find that the catalog lists as separate varieties a great number of minor varieties in color that do not really warrant separate listings and that are really meaningless unless one can envision the exact color shadings that the author had in mind while preparing the catalog. Third, and most important, I need to make the reader aware that the pricing listed in the catalog is based on a slightly varying multiplier that ranges between 3.33 and 3.5 of the Forbin prices most of the time with some occasional deviations. I disagree with Mr. Martin's opinion in <MART9005> that "the editors appear to have been conservative in their price listings". The market for Cuban revenues is extremely limited both in the quantity of material available and in the number of serious collectors. Up to the time of publication of this catalog, U.S. dealers had been pricing Cuban revenues at the equivalence of one dollar per Forbin franc. Upon publication of this catalog, all dealers started pricing Cuban revenues at Jones' catalog prices--an average increase of 3.5 times previous prices--without any regard to real supply and demand for the material. I strongly suggest that the collector be aware that any investment in Cuban revenues at the Jones' catalog prices may be extremely hard to recuperate.

- II. Catalog of Post Offices (alphabetically listed by provinces)
- III. Alphabetical Listing of Post Offices (all provinces combined)
- IV. General Index and Bibliography

Bibliography of Cuban Philatelic Literature -- Internet Edition Ernesto Cuesta

Item I is a brief synopsis of the development of the postal services in Cuba from the earliest attempts of the Spanish administration to establish formal postal communications, through the various measures taken by the Spanish, U.S., and Republican administrations to make the Cuban postal service more widespread and reliable. Item I is a reprint of <RODR9107> with minor updates.

Item II is an update of the main listing of post offices contained in the first edition of the catalog with some additions and corrections. It represents a comprehensive listing of all known Cuban post offices in operation from 1764 to 1960 and provides the following information (if available) for each post office listed: current and previous (if any) names; the official code number uniquely identifying the post office; known periods of operation, including earliest known date of operation and last date of operation for those ceasing operations; post office classification (1st to 5th class; urban or rural); the means of communication available to the post office at the time of its last known date of operation (access by road, railroad, air, and sea with types of roads and railroads differentiated); and the services available at the post office with an indication of the nearest post office where additional listed services were available. Postal markings from some of the listed post offices are illustrated on the right margin of each page, but these are just samples and are not meant to be comprehensive.

Item III is a combined alphabetical index of all post offices with identification of the province to which each post office belongs and the page of the catalog where the detailed information about it can be found. Item IV is a one page section index of the major sections of the catalog followed by a one and a half page bibliography. One difference with <RODR8605> is in the listing for the period of operation of each post office: whereas <RODR8605> only indicated earliest year of operation and whether the post office was also operational in 1898, 1940, and 1960, this new edition indicates periods of operation and dates of closing when known.

This book is a catalog of the U.S. Military Post Offices in Cuba during the Spanish-American War. The catalog is preceded by a historical overview of the war and the establishment of the military post offices by the U.S. Postal Service once they took control of the island and its postal service. The catalog part provides historical and geographical information about each military station that was established and is profusely illustrated with examples of the postal markings from all of the military post offices from which examples have survived. Included in the historical information are the periods during which each military post office officially operated as such.

Also see <RODR0609> for an alphabetical listing of the cities and towns serviced by the TPO system.

This book is a history of the establishment of traveling post offices in Cuba starting with the U.S. Administration of the Cuban postal service after the end of the Spanish-American War and continuing during the Republic up to the 1950s. The book starts with historical notes of precursors of the TPOs during the Spanish colonial period, pointing out that although railroads and coastal vessels were used for the transportation of the mails for many years, these cannot be considered to be real TPOs because no official post offices were established within the railroads and coastal ships that were contracted just to transport the mails from one place to another within the island. However, a forerunner of the TPOs during the Spanish colonial period resulted from an 1861 treaty between the British and Spanish authorities establishing post offices in ships of the Spanish steamship line "Vapores Correos de las Antillas" ("West Indies Mail Steamers") where British mail employees on board of the Spanish steamships were charged with collecting and sorting mail from and to the Spanish Antilles, through a distribution center in St. Thomas, to and from foreign destinations. This service ended in 1871.

The book goes on to give a historical account of the establishment of the TPOs by the U.S. Postal Administration during the U.S. Administration of the Island of Cuba from mid-1898 to May 20, 1902. This service continued and was extended during the first five decades of the Republic. An overview of the Cuban railroad system in 1899 follows with detailed listings of railroad lines and companies, length of the lines, and their endpoints. Similar information is also provided for coastal ship lines. The introduction ends with illustrations of the types of canceling devices used by the TPOs, similar to those in use in the U.S. at the time. The rest of the book is a comprehensive catalog of the known TPOs, specifying their names, known periods of operation, the cities and towns that they serviced, and examples of the cancellations used by each TPO. This is an excellent catalog of these postal markings and is profusely illustrated with large size and very clear examples of most of the known TPOs. The book is an indispensable reference for any philatelist interested in studying this fascinating aspect of Cuban philately.

Quoting from the English summary at the end of the article: "The creation of the Simancas Archive in mid-16th century is coincidental with the powerful expansion and improvement of the mails. The initiative belongs to Philip II and was simultaneous with The Escorial endeavour. In 1561, the emperor appointed Diego de Ayala as archivist and, in 1588, an instruction was promulgated for the Archive's government, widely regarded as the first such regulation in the world. No copy of the deeds kept was to be released without expressed royal approval. This prohibition gave the king a most powerful control over his subjects, whose rights were kept in the Archive. Philip II also conceived the project as a monument to the historical memory and an efficient propaganda tool. Today, Simanca's great documental treasure is vital for the study of the mails."

This installment of the series that started with <ROIGM0603> and continued with <ROIGM0605> is the only one that addresses reprints of Cuba. "Reprints" as used in this article are basically forgeries or fakes. The article discusses forgeries of the 1855 Y ¼ surcharges (no mention is made of the Y ¼ 1860 surcharge), the 1866 ¼ real "66" surcharge, the 1868-69 Habilitados por la Nación overprints, the 1883 surcharges in which mention is only made of one "reprint" and two "errors" on Scott 120 type "e" surcharge (one in which a 10 is in place of the normal 20 at the center of the surcharge, and another with a double surcharge), the 1898 Alfonso XIII issues in which reprints of the 3, 6, 10, 15, and 20c. and 1 and 2 p. stamps are reported, the 1898-99 "Timbre movel" (should be "Timbre Móvil") 4 and 5c. that the author claims to have on cover, and finally, reprints of the 1898-99 "Puerto Príncipe" issue. These, the author claims, are "the only known varieties of reprints of Cuba, others are not reprint stamps, but re-issues".

This installment in the series that started with <ROIGM0603> and continued with <ROIGM0604> only discusses the stamps of "Porto Rico" and is of interest for some parallels with Cuban reprints. The article is full of typographical errors. We suppose the "Fernando P.O." in the title is a reference to Fernando Poo, but since the article only discusses Puerto Rican reprints, it is undetermined. In the third line "Coamo" is misspelled as "Caomo". In lines 7 and 8 "Habilitado por la Nación" is rendered as "Habilitado feor la Nacron" and it is not clear whether this is a misspelling in the actual reprint or another typographical error in the article. Also included in this issue of PWCN is a half page ad titled "Bargains" in which the author is offering various Cuban stmps, covers, post cards, and envelopes, including some "Puerto Principe" surcharged stamps (see <ROIGM0605c>).

Cuba en la Mano--Enciclopedia Popular Ilustrada

Cuba at Hand--Illustrated Popular Encyclopedia

La Habana: 1940. Reprinted by Mnemosyne Publishing Co., Inc., Miami, Florida (date unknown).

Pages 1095 to 1166 contain a "Communications Index" (Indice de Comunicaciones) that has four main sections:

- 1) Datos históricos sobre el Correo, el Telégrafo y el Cable en Cuba, por Felipe García Lima.
(Historical facts on the postal, telegraph, and telegram services in Cuba by Felipe García Lima.)
The article provides an overview of the Cuban postal, telegraph, and telegram services from their inception during the Spanish Administration, through the period of the U.S. Administration, and the first years of the Republic, ending with the airmail service.
- 2) Datos históricos sobre el ferrocarril en Cuba (Historical facts about railroads in Cuba). This section lists the main Cuban railroad companies, provides a brief history of each company and their service area.
- 3) Indice de Comunicaciones (Communications Index). This is the overall title of the four sections listed here, but also the title of a subsection from pages 1107 to 1158 that lists alphabetically all Cuban towns and indicates their location and available communications services. Locations are given by province and distance in kilometers to other important cities and towns.
- 4) Filatelia: Cuba y sus sellos de Correos (Philately: Cuba and its postage stamps). This is a brief overview of Cuban philately and some of its highlights.

Agenda de la República de Cuba
(Agenda of the Republic of Cuba)

Habana: Imprenta Avisador Comercial, 1905, 565 pp., in Spanish.

This is an exhaustive compilation of the state of affairs of the Republic of Cuba at the end of 1904. Of interest to the Cuban philatelist are the following sections:

- 1) Comunicaciones (Communications), pp.338-343. Includes information about the postal and telegraphy services.
- 2) Ferrocarriles (Railways), pp.494-496. Details the railway companies, existing routes, and miles covered.
- 3) Vías de Comunicación (Communication Channels), pp.535-537. Listing of steamship companies serving Cuba, points of service, and frequency of service; Telegraph companies and their existing infrastructure; Railway companies and their principal offices.
- 4) Itinerario de trenes (Train itineraries); pp.539-552. Provides train itineraries for all operating railway companies to and from points of operation with intervening stopovers and times of arrival and departure. This section is of particular interest to the railway post office (RPO) philatelist in identifying the towns serviced in their routes by each RPO.

"Correos de Campaña" in the title means "Military Campaign Posts"

Overview of the various stamps issued at different times by the revolutionary movements fighting for the independence of Cuba from the Spanish. The article also mentions other 20th century Cuban propaganda labels using the Cuban flag as a motif and an anti-communist propaganda label showing a map of the island of Cuba. Barcelona, Spain: PUBLIAFINSA, División Editorial de AFINSA (Publishing Division of AFINSA), 1992, with a Foreword by the authors dated June 1992, 103 pp., ill., in Spanish and English.

In spite of the title, most of the work is dedicated to the postal forgeries of the Antilles stamps used both in Cuba and Puerto Rico, and to the stamps issued for use only in Cuba. No postal forgeries of the stamps issued for use only in Puerto Rico are included and only one postal forgery of a Philippines telegraph stamp is discussed. Large with respect to the last statement made in the article that Dr. Cruz Planas' last demonstration of love for Cuban philately is reflected in the donation upon his death of his extensive and valuable Cuba collection to the Cuban Postal Museum: irrespective of his desires, at the time of his death in 1966, the Cuban revolutionary government of Fidel Castro would have anyway confiscated his collection immediately upon his death. This is not to say that if he had died in other times, knowing of his generosity and devotion to Cuban philately, he would have done otherwise.

BNJ, No.7, Dec 1983, p.10, ill., Span.

Description of the only known vertical strip of Scott Nos.5 and 6 and the only known vertical strip of Scott Nos.7 and 8, which prove that the wide and narrow Ys of the Y 1/4 1855 surcharge, both appeared on the same sheet of stamps. Both vertical pieces discussed span rows 7 and 8 of the sheet. The article notes that the existence of these two pieces and that of a block of 12 stamps (4 columns by 3 rows) in the Cuban Postal Museum bearing only the wide Ys and belonging to the last three rows of a sheet of these stamps, seems to imply that the narrow Ys were used in the surcharges of the first 7 rows of the sheet and the wide Ys were used in the last three rows. However, this logical deduction cannot be definitely corroborated due to the lack of surviving multiples and blocks of these stamps. See <KOUR9701b> for another treatment of this topic.

Most of these covers came from correspondence of "Rafecas & Co.", wholesalers in Havana, and were addressed to Barcelona, Spain. It is believed that the ship markings were not applied at the post office but at the Rafecas company headquarters in Havana to expedite processing of the mail. This article draws from and expands on the information contained <SHEL7609>. Examples of the covers are reproduced as well as the markings known by Shelly and others. The fortified path cutting the island in the middle from North to South, was built by the Spanish military authorities during the so-called Ten Years War of 1868-1878 to prevent the rebellion in the western part of the island from spreading to the east and was successful in containing the war and bringing it to its end. Article on the usage of 7 pre-stamp period lineal town postmarks on covers bearing stamps from the first two stamp issues of 1855-64 (Scott 1-4, 9-11). The article discusses the use of lineal town postmarks in general and their replacement with the "BAEZA" type circular date stamp starting in 1842 and on through 1860 or thereabouts. By the time adhesive stamps started to be used in Cuba, the "BAEZA" circular date stamps had virtually replaced the lineal town postmarks, thus the rarity of the envelopes discussed in the article. The article lists all known lineal town postmarks used in Cuba as well as all of the known Cuban "BAEZA" postmarks. See <ROSE8504b>, <ROSE8504c>, and <ROSE8506c> for follow-up articles.

("The International Sky Train 50 Years Later")

BNJ, No.15, Apr 1985, pp.3-19 (17), ill., Span. with Eng. summary on p.31. This article was also printed in pamphlet form for distribution at philatelic shows to serve as propaganda for the CPSA (see <ROSE8504a>).

Extensive article on the pair of stamps issued to commemorate and partially finance the world's first international sky train flight from Miami to Havana on 14 May 1935 (Scott C16-C17). The article starts with a report of the auctioning of a complete sheet of Scott C17 by the Philatelic Club of the Republic of Cuba in 1960 during the National Philatelic Exhibition "CUBEX '60". The sheet was sold at $400 to stamp dealer Ricardo del Campo who subsequently divided it into blocks, pairs, and singles for sale to his clients. At the time it was surmised that only half a dozen sheets of Scott C17 still existed. The article then provides a detailed historical account of the flight with details of its conception, preparations, financing, execution, ensuing festivities, and flight back to Miami on May 19. This is followed by details of the stamps themselves and the various commemorative flight covers that were prepared and flown on the sky train. Finally, the article provides an extensive discussion of the discovery of a sheet of Scott C16 with a double surcharge by a lucky collector and recounts the polemic that ascertaining its authenticity caused, including contradicting opinions by two experts and its declaration to be a forgery by the Cuban postal authorities based on the opinion of one of the experts. But that was not the end of the matter: the stamps were printed in plates of 200 and divided into two sheets of 100 stamps each, and sometime later another collector came forth with the sister sheet of the double surcharge. Samples from this second sheet were submitted to the postal authorities to further pursue the question of the authenticity of the double surcharge, but apparently the matter was dropped because no official ruling as to their authenticity was ever made. Today the double surcharges on stamps from both sheets are held to be genuine, but anyone offered one should submit it for certification because philatelic forgeries are also known to exist.

BNJ, No.16, Jun 1985, pp.18-21, ill., Span. with Eng. summary on p.27.

Article noting the fact that no Cuban stamp of denomination higher than $1 was issued during by the Republic until 1953 in which $2 and $5 stamps (Scott C77-C78) were issued to facilitate payment of high frankings. During the Spanish administration, the 1898 stamp issue included a $2 value (Scott 175), but the issue was in circulation for only a short period of time due to the Spanish-American War and no copies of the $2 value are known to exist used on cover. The article also discusses the complaints that the issuing of the stamps in sheets of 30 stamps generated among collectors of full sheets, since the cost of both values in full sheets of $210, was the equivalent of an average monthly salary in those days. This was taken into consideration by the postal authorities two years later in 1955 when they issued new $2 and $5 stamps (Scott C120-C121) and sold them in sheets of 10 stamps each at a total cost of $70 for a set of sheets. Shown in the article are a set of three die proofs of Scott C77-C78, showing progressive development of the design.

Correspondence from Hector Juárez Figueredo of Camagüey, Cuba, reporting another error of fact in the 1954 Cuban patriots issue (refer to original report in <ASSE8506>). The 8c stamp shows the incorrect year of death for General Ignacio Agramonte: he died in 1873 and not in 1871 as is indicated in the stamp. Mr. Juárez also shares the research that he and other Cuban philatelists are doing on the 1898 "Autonomía" post cards (H&G 28-35). With reference to these postal cards, we must point out that Mr. Juárez in his correspondence is confusing the meaning of Types I, II, and III in Ascher and H&G (which refer to the serif on the "r" of the abbreviation "Sr." and the relative position of the "S" in the same abbreviation with reference to the "T" of "Tarjeta Postal") with the meaning of Types A and B in <JONE8200>, p.68, (which refer to the spacing between the 1st and 2nd address lines being either 10 or 17 mm.). This error is unnoticed by Rosende and carried over to a report of subsequent correspondence in <ROSE8512c>. Mr. Juárez also shares his research in trying to establish the actual date of issue of the Columbus stamped envelopes printed on paper without the US POD watermark at the beginning of the Republican era (H&G 8A-10A). BNJ, No.19, Dec 1985, p.3-5, ill., Spanish with English summary on p.24. Reprint of <ROSE6004>.

Account of the first national industrial, agricultural, and arts exposition which was organized in 1911 by a group of Cuban entrepreneurs. At the show the Cuban Post Office had a pavillion where mail was handled, and to celebrate the event, the first Cuban commemorative cancellation was created. The article shows examples of the markings used for the occasion which are rarely found on envelopes since most of the mailings were postcards.

BNJ, No.19, Dec 1985, p.9, ill., Span. with Eng. summary on p.24.

Correspondence from several members reporting that they have Autonomía postal cards (H&G 28-35) with a separation of 17 mm. between the 1st and 2nd address lines (see note in <ROSE8510> with reference to some confusion on the meaning of Types I-III in Ascher and H&G versus Types A and B in <JONE8200>). Report from Mark Tyx of a Scott E3 with cancelled in 1904 with an old colonial registry cds. Correspondence from José Ignacio Abreu Pérez, in Matanzas, Cuba, sharing information about several of the articles published in BNJ. Of particular interest is a letter he has, postmarked "Correo Marítimo No.6", whose text refers to the existence of a "Correo Marítimo No.9". Rosende mentions that he too has seen an example of the marking and promises to try to show a photo of it in a future issue of the BNJ (see <ROSE9009>).

Historical account of the maritime mail service operated by the "Empresa de Correos Marítimos" of Havana from 1827 until 1851 (25 years) and the various markings that were used to identify correspondence carried in their ships. The article then focuses on a recently discovered and previously unrecorded "Correo Marítimo No.9" marking submitted for expertization to the Philatelic Foundation of New York and speculates on how this marking might have come about since it is known that there was no ship or sailing of the Empresa that used that number. After discussion of some possible explanations for its existence, the article concludes that the marking probably resulted from an error and provides two possible explanations for its generation. See <ROSE8512c> for a previous reference regarding the existence of Correo Marítimo No.9. See <PINI9404> for irrefutable proof that a Correo Marítimo No.9 did in fact exist.

The article bases the discussion on the expertizing of a cover originating in Cuba on June 19, 1875, addressed to Schonbach bei Lobau, Saxony, where it arrived on July 9, 1875, receiving a rare rectangular "Aus Westindien/über Newyork". As indicated by this marking, the cover was routed via New York where it was labeled as unpaid even though it bore two 50c. 1875 Cuban stamps canceled with encircled P.C. marks.

Barcelona, Spain: PUBLIAFINSA, División Editorial de AFINSA (Publishing Division of AFINSA), 1992, with a Foreword by the authors dated June 1992, 103 pp., ill., in Spanish and English.

In spite of the title, most of the work is dedicated to the postal forgeries of the Antilles stamps used both in Cuba and Puerto Rico, and to the stamps issued for use only in Cuba. No postal forgeries of the stamps issued for use only in Puerto Rico are included and only one postal forgery of a Philippines telegraph stamp is discussed.

Large photos of both authentic and forged stamps are shown for most forgeries discussed and occasional usages on cover are included where they exist and were available. Details of the identifying characteristics of each forgery are provided both in Spanish and English. This is a well executed and indispensable handbook on postal forgeries.

Photocopies from Pilot's Log Books #4 and 5 of Basil L. Rowe, The photocopies were obtained from the National Air and Space Museum Library in Washington, DC. by George W. Bowman in the early 1990's. The photocopies start with Log Book #4; however, the total number of flights, the total time in air, and total distance flown are carried forward from Log Books #1, 2, and 3, for which photocopies were not provided. The cover of Log Book #4 indicates that Mr. Rowe was the Chief Pilot for the West Indian Aerial Express, based in San Juan, Puerto Rico. The entries in the log book span from 22 September 1927 to 16 February 1929, but are missing the period from 9 December 1927 to 1 February 1928 (a total of 22 pages are provided including a cover page and a summary page at the end). These are followed by pages from Log Book #5 which indicates that Mr. Rowe was then flying for Pan American Airways based in Miami, Florida. Entries in Log Book #5 cover the period from 18 February 1929 through 8 October 1930 (cover page plus 39 pages). Entries in Log Books #4 and 5 are basically the same and include the date of the flight, the time in air, the distance flown, the type and identification number of the plane flown, and the departing and arrival points of each flight. Running tallies of the number of flights, the total time in air, and the distances flown are carried over from page to page of both log books.

The description of each perfin includes a code that provides design details geared to English speaking perfin specialists, and thus is not followed in other descriptions of Cuban perfins in the literature (in the case of the first perfin described in the table belonging to Avery and Co., the M indicates that the design is a monogram and that the height of the letters are 10 and 7.5 mm. respectively).

Excellent specialized catalog of the philatelic material of Cuba during the Spanish colonial period. It includes an introduction titled "Pre-Philately" which is really a very high level overview of the evolution of the mail system during the Spanish Administration. The main part of the catalog is Section 1 covering the regular postage stamp issues. This is followed by separate sections on bogus stamps, cinderella stamps, fakes and forgeries, official stamps, stationery, telegraph stamps, Cuban stamps used in other countries, a catalog concordance, and four plates of photos. For stamps the concordance is between the Jones-Roy catalog and Scott, Gibbons, Yvert, and Guerra catalog numbering systems; for postal stationery the concordance is between the Jones-Roy catalog and the Higgins & Gage catalog.

Excellent specialized unpriced catalog of the stamps of the Republic of Cuba into the first few issues of the Castro government. Postage, airmail, special delivery, postage due, and postal tax stamps are listed in the main body in chronological order. Special sections on cinderellas (pp.255-259), fakes and forgeries (pp.261-265), post office seals (pp.267-270), postal stationery (pp.271-291), "souvenirs" issued by the Government (pp.293-294), and telegraph stamps (pp.295-297) follow the main body of the catalog. Since the catalog uses its own numbering system, several catalog number concordance tables are provided at the back of the catalog. For stamps the concordance is between the Jones-Roy catalog and Scott, Gibbons, Yvert, and Guerra catalog numbering systems; for postal stationery the concordance is between the Jones-Roy catalog and Higgins & Gage and Guerra; for post office seals and telegraph stamps the concordance is between the Jones-Roy catalog and Yvert and Guerra. The catalog provides descriptive and printing information for each issue, exact date of issue when known, listing of all values in each issue, quantities of each printed, plate number information, and major known varieties. "Pigmy Covers, A Follow Up"

POSS, Vol.35, No.2, WNo.129, Second Quarter 2014, pp.8-9, ill.

Follow up to a previous article by Geoff Brewster on "pigmy" (small) covers from the Canal Zone and the Philippines, but none from Cuba. The author offers an interesting example of a small cover from Cuba that seems to have been a carte-de-visite sent to General Máximo Gómez underpaying the postage rate by 1 cent.

Reproduction of the front and back an 1899 New Year's Greeting Card sent by the New York Postmaster to colleagues in the U.P.U. Of interest is that on the reverse of the card are listed the first ten Military Post Offices established in Cuba by the U.S. as branches of the New York Post Office. The circular date stamps of the ten

"Perfins on the Stamps of Cuba--Rudy Roy's pictorial exhibition of Cuban perforated insignia stamps"

Continuously updated Internet page in the "Members' Pages" of the ICPS Website on the subject of Cuban perfins. Developed with the collaboration of ICPS Webmaster Robert Littrell. The page lists all Cuban perfins known to date in alphabetical order, giving it an identification number, identifying the company that used the perfin, the period of use, the Scott or Edifil number of the stamps on which the perfin has been found, a sample front and back view of the image of a stamp on which the perfin appears, and when available, an illustration of a cover on which the perfin appears with a return address of the company that used the perfin, thus unequivocally identifying the source of the perfin. After the listing the page presents "A Brief History of Perfins and Perforators", followed by a brief article on the "Orientation of Perfin Punch" to help in describing perfins. The page continues with a link to the "Earliest known use of a perfin postage stamp in Cuba" which surprises the reader with a cover mailed from Cuba with a U.S. perfin stamp that was not accepted for postage and was charged postage due 10 centimes. The page wraps up with a "Perfin Glossary", a "Cuban Perfin Bibliography" and "References and Links" which the reader can follow to learn more about the fascinating topic of perfins.

<RSFC> Revista de la Sociedad Filatélica Cubana (Journal of the Cuban Philatelic Society)

Habana, Cuba: Official journal of the Sociedad Filatélica Cubana (Cuban Philatelic Society). Published from April 1902 (Vol.I, No.1) to October 15, 1904 (Yr.III, No.10), according to <GUER5802d> and <TERR6207>. However, Mark R. Tyx purchased a set of these journals at the October 2003 Huys-Berlingin AG auction of the Joseph Hackmey philatelic library--Lot 7225, that includes several Yr.III issues and a Yr.V, No.3 issue dated March 1906. Major participants in the journal's publication were Dr. Antonio Barreras as its Director, José Gutiérrez as collaborator, and Miguel Lázaro Puentes as Administrator. Referenced in <HORN9600> as item 94650, citing the Crawford catalog as the source. Size is 17 by 24 to 26 cm. Issues from years 1 to 5 listed below are also available in the Crawford Philatelic Library within the British Library. British Library shelfmark: Crawford 2127 (see <CUES1612>).

Probably the best philatelic journal ever published in Cuba. Excellent articles, many containing original research. Known issues are as follows (issues in the Tyx library are indicated by his name in parenthesis):

BS, Vol.18, No.5, WNo.207, May 1947, pp.108-109, 116. [Need better photocopy]

Report of the discovery of a matched set of four position panes of 25 stamps each of the 10 centavos orange, Cuba special delivery stamp (Scott E3), making a complete 100-subject sheet, with the imprint "Bureau of Engraving and Printing", bearing plate number 1432 and printed on watermarked paper with the double line watermark "U S - C". The author claims these stamps were unlisted at the time in the "B.I.A. Plate Number Check List" and states his belief that they should be listed in the U.S. Specialized Catalog as a major variety. However, the plate reported in the article was reported in July 19, 1902 in the Metropolitan Philatelist--[need to get a copy of the MP article to verify these facts].
